Application for Fulbright Germany Studienstipendium

Version date: August 4, 2026

The Hessen:Massachusetts and Hessen:Wisconsin academic exchange programs are collaborating with Fulbright Germany. Graduate students from Hessen are eligible to apply for the Fulbright Germany "Studienstipendium" without having to submit a separate application to Fulbright Germany. Please review the additional requirements and conditions of the Fulbright Germany Studienstipendium for further details: <https://fulbright.de/stipendien/programm/studienstipendium-uni-und-haw>

If you would like to apply for the Fulbright Germany "Studienstipendium," the following Fulbright Germany requirements must be met:

- German citizenship
- Master's level (at the time of the exchange, enrolment as graduate at host institution)
- Previous stays in the U.S. of no more than four months (high school and au pair programs are exempt)

Additional Documents:

Please include the following additional documents in your application:

- Student statement of motivation (in English, max. 3,500 characters including spaces):
Please refer to the following questions:
 - Address why are you applying for a transatlantic exchange program and a Fulbright scholarship, and describe in which areas of your life you take on responsibility—for yourself or for others.
 - Describe a situation—at home or abroad—that challenged your cultural assumptions. What insights did you gain, and how will they shape your interactions during your stay in the U.S.?
- If applicable: Bachelor's degree certificate
- University entrance qualification (e.g. Abitur or equivalent)
- A second letter of recommendation from a faculty member holding at least a doctoral degree
